FORM 990 - Schedule O	FORM 990, PART I, LINE 1, DESCRIPTION OF ORGANIZATION MISSION: Experience for children from economically disadvantaged homes. Form 990, part iii, line 4a, program service accomplishments: Tims Camps provides youth with camp-based learning experiences that lay the foundation for success in young adulthood and beyond. In the multiyear summer experience, youth come to camp for 10 days at a time for four summers. In the school program, youth attend camp for a 3 or 4 day experience with their class. Our program focuses on three major components of self, community, and future, and support youth in developing important social and emotional skills needed for success. Program components focused on self allow campers to learn more about themselves and their skills and abilities. They learn and practice setting, working toward, and modifying personal goals in the face of challenges. We know that our programs are working because we measure them! Overall, scores related to the self component of the Big 3 increased from pre to post camp. Community program elements teach campers the value of working together and supporting others within the camp, school, and local community. Again, when measuring how our activities focused on community are impacting youth, we saw significant increases in scores from pre- to post-camp. The Tims Camps program also focuses on encouraging youth to look to their futures with hopeful expectations. At camp, youth learn the skills to be successful in building positive relationships, healthy habits, pursuing post-secondary education, obtaining employment, and much more. With these skills, youth can envision a future in which they are able to achieve any goal they set their minds to. Activities focused on future also prompt increased measures pre- and post-camp. Camper outcomes are focused on the 5Cs of positive youth development. Competence: youth develop transferrable technical, social, and emotional skills. Confidence: youth develop a sense of self-worth and skill mastery. Character: youth take responsibility, develop independence, and individuality. Caring: youth show empathy and sympathy for others and understanding caring for others is important. Connection: youth create positive relationships and foster positive interactions. Measuring all five Cs of positive youth development, we saw stability and increases in most of the Cs. Form 990, part vi, section a, line 6: Tim Horton children's foundation, Inc.
